COAL CLASH IMPENDING

Operator-Miner Strife Near

Union Facing Extinction in Bituminous Areas While Lewis Fights for Sway

Banks Fail and Towns Suffer Due to West Virginia's Gain on Competitors

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Trouble impends in the coal industry, trouble of the sort that will be nationwide in its effects. Already it has put a blight on the bituminous coal industry of all the soft-coal producing States where the United Mine Workers of America rule.

Two presumably strong banks at Pittsburgh have failed during the past week because of "frozen assets," consisting of loans to coal miners. In analyzing the cause of failure the Pennsylvania Secretary of Banking reports that "stagnation has obtained in the bituminous coal industry of Pennsylvania for some months."

The anthracite coal industry so far has been aloof from the trouble. It is a more compact organization than is found among the bituminous mines; it is more nearly monopolistic in character. But some of the factors in the bituminous problem are also found in the anthracite situation. A trace prevails now between the anthracite operators and the union, but that trace comes to an end on September 1, next. What might happen then is giving grave uneasiness to the officials of the government.

Briefly put, the stage is being set for another and a huge war between the operators and miners.

CRUX OF TROUBLE

The crux of the trouble in the soft-coal mining districts lies in the prevailing wage contracts between the operators in unionized districts and their miners. These contracts call for a wage approximating the war-time scale. Nonunionized West Virginia soft-coal mines continue to operate and to sell to the trade at prices that the unionized mines cannot meet.

LOS ANGELES LEAVES FOR PORTO RICO

Giant Dirigible Sets Sail on Severe Trip Carrying Thirty-six Men

LAKEHURST (N. J.), May 3.—The dirigible Los Angeles which recently made a trip to Bermuda, left here today for a more severe test flight to Porto Rico.

Weather conditions were ideal as the ship took off from its mooring mast at 11 o'clock. Quickly rising to an altitude of 2,500 feet, the dirigible headed seaward, to the southeast, and was lost to view.

Under the command of Capt. George W. Steele, the Los Angeles carried thirty-six men—two officers from its mooring ship, the Patoka, and a news photographer in addition to a crew of thirty-three.

The dirigible Los Angeles was sailing over the Atlantic Ocean tonight at a rate of about forty knots on her way to Porto Rico.

A message received at the Navy Department tonight from her commander gave her position at 8:19 p.m. as 205 miles off Cape Hatteras and reported that her course had been changed for Mayaguez.

AUTOS TAKE A HUGE TOLL

Last Year's Death List 19,000

More Than 450,000 Injured in 1924; 5700 Children Slain in Accidents

Speeding Cars Average 52 Killed, 1180 Hurt Daily Throughout Nation

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, May 3.—A trail of 19,000 dead and more than 450,000 injured lay in the wake of automobiles as they sped over the highways of the nation in 1924. Of the dead 5700 were children. In the World War the total of dead and wounded in the American army overseas was 275,000. As the sun went down each day the statistics recorded for the closing twenty-four hours of the daily average of fifty-two killed and 1180 injured.

POPULATION OF CITY KILLED

These figures include automobile accidents at grade crossings, which resulted in death to 148 persons and injuries to 1480. The dead and injured, if brought together, would make an assemblage equal to the population of Washington, D. C., or Newark, N. J., or Cincinnati, or the combined population of Albany, N. Y., Norfolk, Va., and San Antonio, Tex.

These statistics in motor vehicle mishaps were made public yesterday by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, New York City, through its auto department. The estimate for the country is based upon accident data collected for the National Safety Council by the health officers of 165 cities having a total population of 23,000,000, or about one-third of the total population of the United States. While these figures are shocking, there is even comfort in the fact that the rate of losses is less last year than in any of the previous years.

FIGURES SHOW INCREASE

In 1923 auto accidents, including grade crossings, resulted in 18,121 deaths, while in 1922 the corresponding figure was 15,015. The increase in 1923 was approximately 20 per cent. The corresponding increase for 1924 was 19 per cent. The reduction of the rate of increase is much more striking and significant when it is related to the number of automobiles in use. There have been 2,000,000 more autos in operation during 1924 than during 1923. The increase in the number of automobiles is a million and a half more, making a grand total of seventeen million and a half.

NEW MOTOR FOR PLANES IS SUCCESS

Air-cooled Engine, Made for Navy, Climbs Fast and Lands Slowly

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—An air-cooled airplane engine of 40 horsepower, built for the Navy has given a satisfactory performance in a test flight with a navy torpedo plane from Paterson, N. J., to Washington.

The engine, which is the largest air-cooled airplane motor that has been produced in this country, was built by the Wright Aeronautical Corporation at Paterson. In tests, the plane equipped with it climbed at the rate of 1000 feet a minute, took off with a very short run in eight seconds, and landed under control with a greatly reduced landing speed. It covered the 230 miles from Paterson to Washington in one hour and fifty minutes, a remarkably fast time for a heavy-duty plane.

The engine is 450 horsepower and has been named the "Cyclone." Whereas the weight of the Liberty engine was 2,500 pounds, the Cyclone weighs only two pounds. Elimination of the water-cooling system is regarded as of

JARDINE COMING TO CALIFORNIA

Secretary of Agriculture Plans Field Inspection

Marketing, Forestry Work to Receive Attention

Electrical Body Will Hear Visitor at Bay City

WASHINGTON, May 3.—In order that he may become familiar with the work of his department in the field, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine will leave Washington on the 28th inst. for California and a six weeks' inspection trip through the West. Four-fifths of the 20,000 workers in the department are at stations scattered throughout the country outside of Washington, a fact which led the Secretary to decide on this early visit. At a later time he expects to go to the Southwest and through the East and South.

The trip of Secretary Jardine will take him to California with stops in Kansas, Utah and Idaho on his way west, and in Washington, Oregon, Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, and Iowa on the return. As the tour is primarily for field inspection the Secretary is accepting but a limited number of speaking engagements.

He is scheduled to speak before a transportation conference at Chicago on the 28th inst. At this conference problems will be discussed by those interested in the general subject of transportation including officials of railroads and motor truck and bus manufacturers. The Secretary also will visit the Chicago stock yards where he will confer with live-stock men.

WILL VISIT COLLEGE

On June 6, next, he will give the commencement address at his alma mater, the Agricultural College of Utah, and has accepted an invitation to talk to Utah farmers at Logan on June 1, next. During the next three days he will tour the Targhee National Forest where the forest service of the department is carrying on a variety of activities.

Plans are being made for Secretary Jardine to open officially the Wendover Road on June 13. This road leads through Salt Lake City to the Utah-Nevada line, crossing over the Great Salt Desert. It is built for a considerable portion of the distance over solid beds of salt and completes a section of the transcontinental route. It is one of the most unusual pieces of road construction in the United States, and officials from the three neighboring States will take part in the ceremonies.

CALIFORNIA STAY

Secretary Jardine will spend more than a week in California, giving a part of his time to inspecting forestry work and the scene of the serious foot-and-mouth disease outbreak of last year. He has accepted an invitation to speak before the National Electric Light Association at San Francisco on June 15, next, on the relation of electricity to agriculture. Among other things in California he will receive the attention of

HONEYWELL DENIES DELAYING RACE START

ALBANY, N.Y., May 3.—Capt. H. E. Honeywell, who landed near here at 1:10 a.m. today, in the balloon St. Joseph, denied that he had delayed the start of the international balloon race at St. Joseph, Mo., Friday afternoon for which he has been disqualified. He asserted he started within the stipulated time limit.

"The reason I delayed filing my balloon was that the high wind which was blowing had already ripped an enemy balloon to pieces, and I did not want mine destroyed."

"I have participated in twenty-one races and four international races," continued Honeywell's statement, "but I have never heard of a pilot being disqualified for delaying a race in which he started within the set time limit."

Steamer 'Sunk' Three Times in Mimic War Zone

NEW YORK, May 3.—Officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company here announced today that when the company's steamship Empress of France arrived at Vancouver, B. C., earlier in the day on the trip around the world, the captain reported that the ship had been "sunk" three times while passing through the "war zone" of the Pacific Ocean during the war games between the "blue" and "black" fleets of the United States Navy.

As the Empress of France was leaving Honolulu April 25, a "blue" airplane appeared over her prow and effected the first "sinking" despite attempts of a "black" plane to head off the attacker. Two hours later, the officials said, two squadrons of battleships and cruisers of the United States Navy "destroyed" her. An hour later, a submarine "torpedoed" her. Passengers aboard the Empress of France were reported to have enjoyed the novelty of their "war" experience.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Almost 80 per cent of the quota of applications for admission to the citizens' military training camps have already been received, despite the fact that the opening date set for the first of these camps is more than two months away. More than one-third of the 35,000 young men who are to attend the camps have been accepted. On April 30, last, 23,231 had been received, which contrasts with 20,387 on the same date last year.

The Fifth Corps Area, embracing Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Kentucky, is leading with 11,815 or 86.1 per cent of its quota of 600 applications already received.

A careful survey of the situation is made every ten days, and that of April 30 shows there are still vacancies in the quota for each corps area, thus making it possible for young men to make application for admission to one of the camps. However, the quota for each corps area is being filled rapidly.

TROTSKY TO BECOME HEAD OF TRADE SOVIET

MOSCOW, May 3.—The triumvirate at the head of the Russian government, composed of M. Stalin, M. Kamenev, and M. Zinoviev, will probably be transformed into a directorate of four men, with Leon Trotsky, M. Stalin, M. Deshchinski, and M. Kamenev sharing the supreme power of Russia.

According to political circles in Moscow, M. Trotsky will occupy an important position, giving him control of production and trade in Russia. He is scheduled to become chief of the soviet for work and national defense, but his position will be under military supervision, while the Department of Trade will be turned over to the soviet of work and national defense, though they admit that the new position will grant him great power.

Trotsky's former chief adversary, Zinoviev, has been withdrawing to the background for the past three months, which increases Moscow's belief that he is out of the control of supreme power, leaving the field for Trotsky, Stalin, Deshchinski and Kamenev.

Dean Inge Puts World Problems Up to America

NEW YORK, May 3.—Very Rev. W. R. Inge, the "Gloomy Dean" of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, said in a sermon this afternoon in the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine that it is hopeless to expect much from England in solving the world's problems. England, he said, is looking to the United States to solve the world's problems. He said that America will not approve the League of Nations, it should give the world something in the league's place.

Pleading against a policy of "selfish isolation," he called the United States a "nation of destiny" endowed with privileges and responsibilities to spur it on, not only for the salvation of its own people, but for all civilization.

FINDS WEALTH OF RELICS

Franco-American African Expedition Returns to Base With 4000 Prehistoric Mementos

EVACUATION CAMP, CARTHAGE (Tunisia) May 3.—After traveling 2000 miles through Tunisia, Algeria and the Sahara, the Franco-American expedition has returned to its headquarters here with nearly 4000 prehistoric stone implements and photographic records of North Africa's amazingly varied scenic wonders, ancient ruins and peculiar customs.

Americans will have an opportunity to study at leisure both the environment and the works of early African man for most of the objects obtained, as well as the pictures, are destined for the United States.

The home stretch trip, though it traversed less vaguely known parts of Algeria and Tunisia, proved of unusual importance to the Comte De Prochor, for at Tebessa he met and conferred on his work with the historian, and Prof. Regnaud, French authorities on prehistoric Africa. Prof. Stephen Geill, the expedition's geologist, and administrator of Tebessa, who has been one of the pioneers in the study of primitive man throughout North Africa.

The views of these experts supported the belief of the Comte De Prochor that a great work remains to be done in the prehistoric field here, especially in Hoggar.

As a result of the conference the expedition hopes to secure from the French authorities a permit to do a geological survey of the Hoggar region, which ancient documents located.

NEW COAL FIELD STRIFE IMPENDS

commissioners who examined into the causes agreed that a fundamental fact was that there were too many bituminous coal mines crisscrossed in a business that is not a very profitable one.

There are not so many bituminous mines operating now and there are not so many bituminous mines operating now and there are not so many bituminous mines operating now.

But it is hard on those who have been shaken out, idleness, displacement, and now the failure of banks in the coal area, tell the story. People are hurt, mines are idle, and the coal fields there comes to Washington an ever-rising cry of protest.

George H. Cushing, an authority on coal, in a statement today said: "As fast as their sales contracts expire, the unionized mines in Ohio and Pennsylvania are under attack by the non-union operators."

JAPANESE DENY NAVAL MENACE

Refute "Error" in Article by London Writer

Assert Endeavor to Reduce Auxiliary Force

Building Program is Given in Statement

TOKIO, May 3.—The Navy Department has issued a lengthy statement refuting "fundamental errors" made by Hector Bywater of the London Daily News, who in a recent article insisted that Japan's auxiliary craft building program constituted a menace.

The statement asserts that Japan is endeavoring to reduce the number of her auxiliary vessels. While the United States has a large number of high-grade destroyers, it says Japan has developed its destroyers and submarines.

SHOWS NAVAL STRENGTH
The statement shows Japan to have ninety-five cruisers and forty-four destroyers, and twenty-one auxiliary cruisers and fourteen submarines.

While Bywater is trying to create a sensation, it is quite plain that Japan's naval program is not a menace to America, says the statement. It concludes by quoting Secretary Wilbur as saying: "The Japanese navy is not a threat to the United States."

CASE OF BELLAIRE

The case of Bellaire, O., illustrates what is happening. Bellaire lies on the Ohio side of the Ohio River in the center of a rich coal district. Its mines tap the same seam that runs down the river into West Virginia. Six months ago Bellaire was prosperous. In 1924 the coal mines of the Bellaire district produced 1,200,000 tons of coal.

Recently 45 per cent of those mines have closed down. Bellaire is a town of 10,000 people. It is a coal town. It is a coal town. It is a coal town.

The Bellaire district is a coal town. It is a coal town. It is a coal town. The Bellaire district is a coal town. It is a coal town. It is a coal town.

Preacher Sees Church's Doom in Education

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Rev. Charles Francis Potter, announcing his resignation effective in the autumn, as pastor of the West Side Unitarian Church, in order to become executive secretary of Amherst College at Yellow Springs, O., said today the work of the church had become secondary to that of the college in modern civilization.

He believes that when education becomes perfected, he wrote in a letter announcing his plans, "the churches will be unnecessary, but that is a long way off. The work of the churches has become secondary for a while, at least, until they have established an education which really prepares for life."

RAIL CHIEF STRICKEN BY PARALYSIS GAINS
KANSAS CITY, May 3.—J. A. Edson, president of the Kansas City Southern Railway, was reported at his apartment here tonight as making a satisfactory recovery from a stroke of paralysis suffered last Monday. The attack affected one side of the body. His effects, however, had almost entirely vanished tonight, and hope was expressed that he would be up in about a week. Edson is 71 years of age.

The Jews have been free to find the places for which they are best fitted, some few of them will indeed retain less exalted stations than under a regime of privilege, but the vast multitude will rise to a higher level, to wider horizons, to wider attainments.

To go forward on the same broadening lines that have marked the national development thus far, must be our aim. It is an easy thing to say but not so simple to do. There is no straight and smooth and posted highway into the dim realm of the tomorrow. There are bogs and morasses, blind roads and dead ends. No philosophy of history ever has succeeded in charting accurately a day of the future. No science of social engineering has been able to predict the course of human progress in sure and steady march.

The race is always pioneering. It always has been and always must be. It dare not tire of unending effort and repeated disappointments. It must not in any moment of weariness or inertia cease from pressing. Least of all can it indulge the temptation of complacency, imagining that the sum of useful progress has been made. The community of the civilization that ceases to progress begins that hour to recede.

CONFLICT PERSISTS
The work of spiritual unification is not completed; factional, sectional, social and political lines of conflict yet persist. Despite all the experience society continues to engender the hatreds and jealousies whereof are born domestic strife and international conflict. But education and enlightenment are breaking their force. Reason is emerging. Every inheritance of the Jewish people, every teaching of their secular history and of their religious experience draws from them powerfully to the aid of charity, liberty and progress. They have always arrayed on this side and we may be sure they will not be deserted.

The drought has been so severe that the farmers of the section are now in a state of panic. The crops are withering and the farmers are losing their livelihood. The weather bureau reports that the drought is the worst in the annals of the bureau. The farmers are now in a state of panic and are looking for any sign of rain to save their crops.

Young Swift to Toil in Father's Packing Plant

(Times Staff Writer.) May 3.—Louis Swift, Jr., 32 years of age, son of the millionaire president of Swift & Co., has donated white overalls and gone to work in the South Omaha plant of Swift & Co., as a day laborer. He says he wants the practical experience of doing actual work in the different departments of the big plant.

"I have nothing to say. I am here just learning about things," he told interviewers. Officials of the plant say young Swift is to receive a systematic training in the packing business in the next few months. So far he has been doing a little work in each of the departments, and next Monday he starts in on the work of a packer, and will work right along with the regular gang.

Chicago Woman Given Decree as Golf Widow

(Times Staff Writer.) CHICAGO, May 3.—Mrs. Bertha Haz Auld, of the Parkway Hotel, objected so strenuously to being a golf widow that Judge Sabath indicated today he would grant her divorce from Dr. John Maxwell Auld of the Belmont Hotel. She testified that her husband was almost constantly on the links and when she sought to follow him there she might not forget what he looked like, he became angry and struck her on several occasions.

The Aulds were married in September, 1903, at St. Joe, Mo. She testified that their home life was not happy until her husband took up golf. She declined to ask any alimony.

Un Millón De Muchachos

En las escuelas públicas de la ciudad de Nueva York—las mejores del mundo seguramente, por múltiples razones—se ha matriculado este año un millón de estudiantes. Un millón de muchachos, los hombres de mañana, que, como ejército invicto, sólo ve ante sus ojos la ruta de la victoria. Este millón de muchachos, con otros cuantos millones más repartidos por todos los ámbitos de esta inmensa República, es el símbolo de un pueblo que, al marchar hoy a la vanguardia de todos los otros pueblos, se lo debe precisa y exclusivamente a su juventud.

Los Estados Unidos de América del Norte son fuertes porque son jóvenes; saben ser jóvenes hasta después de serlo. Triunfan así los jóvenes y todo lo llenan de juventud que es fuerza, y es salud, y es alegría. Recordando al niño que dijo: "¿El niño es el padre del hombre," rinden culto al niño, que ha de darles el hombre.

Y de qué mejor modo rendirle culto sino ofreciéndole la más esmerada y esmerada educación? Se le educa, se le instruye, se le prepara con el más devoto anhelo de facilitarle la victoria en la vida. Para ello, la sola ciudad de Nueva York dedica, anualmente, una enorme fortuna. Este año tiene asignado un presupuesto de 93 millones de dólares; en números redondos, y a la par, 150 millones de pesos.

Quinientos millones de pesos para la instrucción pública de una sola ciudad parece un sueldo. ¿Cómo comparar esa fantástica suma con las de los presupuestos de otras ciudades? No es de extrañar que la gran ciudad de Estados Unidos sea la más rica de las naciones enteras? Así no es de extrañar que la gran ciudad de Estados Unidos sea la más rica de las naciones enteras? Así no es de extrañar que la gran ciudad de Estados Unidos sea la más rica de las naciones enteras?

National Open and Junior Titles

NEW YORK, May 3.—The open polo championship will again be played at Meadowbrook on September 14, announced today by the United States Polo Association. The national open event will be the most attractive scheduled for the United States.

It is practically the same event during the past season, coming at the end of the campaign when other sections of the country have completed their programs and the English season is over. The open championship is expected to draw not only the best players in the United States but also several foreign stars to this section in the fall.

Country Club Country Club, who surprised everyone by winning the American title last season, has not made plans for coming back. But it is not unlikely that some of the best players from the United States will be on hand to contest the title.

Ambassador Pool Scene of Much Activity

Roger Cornell Puts on Spicy Water Program

BY W. C. WISE
A series of scientific plunges that becomingly splashed a bevy of aristocratic ankles—before a crowd that overran the beautiful hotel lawn, officially reopened Roger Cornell's Ambassador Hotel Swimming Pool yesterday afternoon.

With the sparkling waters of the newly tiled pool reflecting the colorful fashion show setting the large overflow audience sat and stood through an enjoyable musical medley and entertainment prologue.

Alfred Goulding, popular Metro-Goldwyn director as master of ceremonies, buzzed between the specially arranged tables that partially shielded Claire Windsor, Bert Lytell—many other stage and cinema celebrities—and the platform and everything went off in true marine order.

Without a shining example of feminine temperament—the gala party might have been a failure, but tiny Bonnie Barrett, nearly 4 years of age, and weighing about twenty-four pounds, perched on the precarious edge of the twenty-two-foot diving board, offered fifteen minutes of midday's best. Barely able to reach her lofty perch unaided, Bonnie spent many minutes—tiny shoes frantically gripping the slippery edges—but time and again the petite miss decided upon the ladder as the safest way down. Bonnie wasn't afraid of the water, underhand, but that board was too high for so little a tot and, finally, Bonnie descended upon the comforting shoulder of Daddy Barrett. All the way for she elected to jump from the twelve-foot board and certainly a creditable performance for so tiny a miss—and then later, Bonnie rode to a wet victory on the slippery back of Frank Duval in the special fifty-yard race.

FANCY DIVING

Girls' races—boys' races—diving and swimming exhibitions completed the aquatic program. Helen Church, Peggy Fortune, Lucille Richardson, Helen Wagon and other charming feminine members of the Ambassador Swimming Club, who with Jimmie Ryan, Tom Hinkle, Doc Alexander, Harvey Perry and other members of the men's club in a flashing diving exhibition that drew round of applause.

Roger Cornell gave an enjoyable exhibition of trick strokes—dive, float—and what-nots, and Kenneth Green, 245-pound fish, slid through the water with all the grace of a well-trained large body. In the special heavy-weight race where three entrants representing nearly one-half ton raised the level of the pool considerably, Miss Madalynne Field, 210 pounds and proud of it, led Tennessee Worrell, 217 pounds, and not getting—and Kenneth Green, the ape in a twenty-five-yard handspan race.

IT'S A PUZZLE

GO AND GUESS IF "NEW TOYS" IS GOOD
By Grace Kingsley
Isn't a good picture—except to see I mean "New Toys." down at Loew's with the engaging Richard Barthelmess starred. You know there are such a lot of perfectly good pictures—but not to see.

You'll laugh a lot of or when you play to see "New Toys." But times with and sometimes at. But you'll have a good time just the same. At least the people around me did. And I had a few laughs myself.

Analyzed, "New Toys" would seem to have been written by a Mack Bennett gag man in collaboration with the Sweet Singer of Michigan and Elinor Glyn. It is from the stage play of Milton Herbert Gropper and the play looks like the name sounds—aided and abetted by Oscar Hammerstein the second. That is what the program says. But I think it must have played quite an engagement in the storehouse before it got in pictures.

Poor Dick Barthelmess—the of the tender smile and the wistful eyes! Can you imagine him stammering, or falling over in a dramatic moment, or falling over in a dramatic moment at the same time he falls for the leading lady? But he does. I do wish there were a way against putting straight leading men into humor comedy, especially when there are Larry Semon and other comedians around.

And poor little Mary Hay! I wonder if she didn't go home saying that she wouldn't play any more! Extracting the plot from the wreck and dusting it off, one finds it to be a dear old friend. Its theme is that woman's friend in the home and she is happier there. Its moral would seem to be: if you must stay at home, don't play Queen Elizabeth; your nose may run! You see the heroine played Queen Elizabeth with a putty nose. The nose melted—yes, it did, that's a big part of the plot—and when melted, Mary Hay is a very darling little girl who should never try to be serious in a picture. Mary is Dick Barthelmess's wife in real life, as we say, and I think this introduced a real kick into the picture.

Wish I had a lot more space to give to the Fanchon and Marco Review. It is my idea of perfection along this line of thing for a picture house, being full of beauty of posing, exquisite dancing, lovely music, and originality of ideas. To be sure, I momentarily expected those statues to move, and they were little away a brasserie and teddikin exhibit; but they didn't. There was none of the usual painful and futile attempt at comedy, and the voices of the singers were charming.

We hear all the time of travelogues being made, but seldom, somehow do we get a glimpse of one. "China Across the Bay" proves absorbingly interesting.

Barbark Tonight, Remember
If you remember William Desmond and Forrest Stanley in the flesh—and doublet and nose—at the Burbank, when madame ideah flourished, don't miss the Burbark tonight. These gentlemen are going to speak. Rupert Hughes is to be master of ceremonies. Oh, yes, and there will be plenty of girls!

POLISH FOLK HONOR BIRTH OF REPUBLIC
Consul-General is Speaker at Banquet; Tells About Trade Possibilities
One thousand sons and daughters of Poland living in Los Angeles gathered in the Polish Auditorium at Portlich street and South Park avenue last night to celebrate the first anniversary of the Polish Constitution and to honor Dr. George Barthel de Weydenthal, Consul-General of Poland to the United States. The meeting was presided by Alfred Prala, head of the Los Angeles division of the National Polish Alliance.

The Consul-General, who is on a tour of the principal cities of the United States to stress the importance of American products and goods, told the gathering that business in their native country was in a healthy condition. Due to a great measure to the Bank of Poland, established little over a year ago, he pointed out the immense trade possibilities with his country through the port of Los Angeles.

Dr. Tong going to Africa
Dr. Arthur Tong, a graduate of the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, and Mrs. Tong, have accepted a call from the foreign mission board of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination to go to Angola in Portuguese West Africa. They sailed from New York Saturday for Europe, where they will go to the Dark Continent. Dr. Tong is known to many physicians of Los Angeles and served an internship at White Memorial Hospital.

HERE'S BUSTER, MARY OF SCREEN
They Will Bring Cartoon Pair to Life

Arthur Trimble and Doreen Turner

DOUBTLESS there is no happier boy throughout the length and breadth of the land today than little Arthur Trimble, screen juvenile, who for the past few weeks played for a certain role in the movies and was eventually avowing the coveted part by Julius Stern, president of the Century Film Corporation. He was selected from a list of ten eligible to enact the role of Buster in a series of two-reel comedies his company is to film around the adventures of the famous child character of the cartoons, created and drawn by Outcault, the celebrated artist.

Coincidentally the naming of little Arthur for the part of Buster, President Stern of Century selected little Doreen Turner for the role of Mary Jane. Tigs will be impersonated by Peter, celebrated movie dog. Charles Lamont, one of Century's ablest directors, will produce the first picture of the new series and William Haver will photograph it.

The "Buster Brown" comedies will be released through Universal as all of the product of the Century Film Corporation. The first picture of the first group of six fun films will go into production at once at the company's Hollywood studio.

RIN-TIN-TIN IN NEW THRILLER
To be analytical about a dog picture is almost impossible. The sight of a dog fighting for his master, hunting down a murderer and taking care of a baby provides an instantaneous pull on the emotions. Consequently it is difficult to decide whether "Tracked in the Snow Country," with Rin-Tin-Tin, the wolf dog, is just a typical dog film or a classic.

Certainly the race of Rin-Tin-Tin through the snow trailing the murderer is a picture of the word in thrill. And, to the audience of small boys and girls who viewed it Saturday it was a riot.

Rin-Tin-Tin, a real, expressive young actor, and the scene in which he lies at the feet of the man who intends to shoot him, is quite without parallel in dog pictures. In fact in the moments when he is standing, or lying still and looking, Rin-Tin-Tin is far better than in the more active scenes. Perhaps, Rin-Tin-Tin belongs to that modern school of acting which expresses everything in the face.

"Tracked in the Snow Country" should surely be an attractive picture to the audience of the Humane Society, for the fighting scenes are very tame. At no moment does there come a suggestion of a real encounter between the man and the dog take place. For humanity's sake this may be all very well, but surely when the dog is supposed to be trying to tear the man limb from limb, there could be brought in something savouring of a thrill.

However, the picture is interesting, irrespective of lack of fighting scenes. It is a picture of the daughter of the lonely prospector, has the quaint wistful charm which always makes her work. The heroine of a dog picture, however, seldom has any great dramatic moments to attract the attention of the audience.

PLAYERS INTEREST IN 'MEN AND WOMEN' DESPITE OLD PLOT

It is the boast of the producers of "Men and Women" now playing at Grauman's Metropolitan Theater, that there is no hero, no heroine, and no villain in the picture—that the characters are just men and women. Well, perhaps so, but somehow the idea is, little about the men and women concerned to make one proud of either sex, although the acting in the picture is very well done.

The sight of a silly wife of a bank cashier accepting expensive gifts from her husband's assistant—of lying about them, of goading her husband until he steals the bank's bonds, somehow doesn't particularly thrill the spectator.

It is the old story of the young couple in moderate circumstances in New York—the other man who tempts the girl—and the dire consequences when the husband steals the bonds. Old as the idea is, and many as the questions are which rise in the spectator's mind, the picture is still very interesting.

This is due to the excellent acting on the part of Richard Dix and Nell Hamilton. At last a guilty man appears in a picture without pacing the floor, without shifting his eyes nervously from right to left, in the scenes when Richard Dix is trying to make up his mind whether to keep still and let his rival go to prison, or to speak out and go himself, his work is exceptionally well restrained, without losing any of the quality necessary for the proper suspense.

Nell Hamilton has an ease of manner in this picture which distinguishes him and the slightly sardonic smile with which he greets each new development is most intriguing.

As the young, foolish wife, Claire Adams is very pretty and attractive, although she is never deeply dramatic. Wearing lovely clothes, the various gifts of jewelry and the presiding at the breakfast table she is much better than when she learns that her husband is going to prison.

Robert Eddson in the role of the bank president appears to advantage, as he usually does, and suspenseful as the comedy scene, bustles in for a scene or two garbed in furs and velvet—and looks thinner than ever.

In a Christie comedy entitled "Don't Pinch," Bobby Vernon romps through a reel or two in a Buster Brown suit, and is quite laugh-provoking. Albert Kaufman presents a feature called "The Birth of Syncope" in which the Nightingale Dancers monkey suits were perched in an improvised tree and several entertainers illustrated how jass first started in the South Seas.

"RAFFLES" DIVERTS
Crook Picture at California is Rather Slow in Spots
The fascinating and exhilarating sport of safe-cracking indulged in by a gentleman is on view this week at the California under the title of "Raffles."

As portrayed here the theft of a diamond necklace or a pearl earring is slightly more important than a good hand at bridge, just sort of a clever little game of fooling the other boys at the club, and because of this gentlemanly and cultured fashion in which the diamonds and pearls disappear, there is a necessary slowing up of the tempo. Everything is done gracefully and leisurely, which at the very outset kills the exhilaration of suspense for the audience, who has been educated to tense thrills with crooked exploits.

House Peters plays the over-emulated Raffles, the amateur burglar, whose deft fingers penetrate into the most technically crack-proof safes. Peters does the best possible with the role as it is written, playing it with a degree of reserve and polish, and for that reason is fairly convincing where he otherwise might fall short.

District Makes Phenomenal Strides; Seventy-two Wells Drilling, Twenty-five Producing

Seventy-two wells in various stages of drilling, twenty-five wells on production, and an output approximating 6000 barrels per day is the record of achievement in the Inglewood field during the four months that have elapsed since the completion of the Mohawk Oil and Gas Syndicate's discovery well in the Culver City area of the field.

NEWPORT BEACH, May 3.—Completion of the Interstate Oil Company's No. 2 well at the surprisingly shallow depth of 600 feet, from which level it is now yielding seventy-five barrels of 12 degree gravity crude per day has caused operators to assume that much of the Newport Beach, Costa Mesa district, lies over a shallow petroleum pool, and development has, as a result, received considerable impetus in recent days.

Why we believe that United Drug is an attractive investment

SOME YEARS AGO, when the price was much lower, we urged our friends, through the columns of the daily papers, by letter and by card to purchase American Telephone and Telegraph shares. In addition to the cheap price then obtaining for that stock, we believed that a company which supplied a daily necessity was so strongly entrenched that its securities should be in every investor's hands. Thousands availed themselves of the opportunity, to their subsequent profit and satisfaction.

Although the two industries are in no way related, we feel that a like opportunity is offered in the securities of the United Drug Company. It is the leader in its field—the largest and most successful company in the chain drug industry. It is a vast national enterprise, manufacturing and distributing to more than 10,000 allied stores—stretching from coast to coast—and known as Rexall Stores.

The sales of the Company amounted to more than $70,000,000 last year, and we believe that the total will be larger in the years to come. This revenue is drawn from all sections of the United States, Canada and England. This provides diversity of income. The Company is not dependent on any one section of the countries in which it operates.

The assets of the United Drug Company total more than $100,000,000. Because there is $106 in tangible assets for each $50 par value of First Preferred outstanding, we believe that the principal invested is very safe.

Because this Company supplies to the millions their home necessities; because its assets and sales are of tremendous volume; because these Preferred Shares are highly marketable, and because today's price, $53.75, and the net return, 6.54%, is attractive, we believe that every well chosen list of securities should include this stock, even though it is but ten shares.

The shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange; are quoted daily; and we will buy or sell for you at the market of the day. If you wish more information, write or telephone to us.

WHAT I PURPOSE TO DO AS MAYOR OF LOS ANGELES

BY BENJAMIN F. BLEDSOE
Former United States District Judge.
Candidate for Mayorality at Tomorrow's Primary.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION: Los Angeles is the greatest business corporation west of Chicago. Its destiny hinges upon the administration of its business. The business of Los Angeles shall be my business; to its administration only business principles shall be applied.

POLITICS: Under the law partisan politics has no place in municipal elections. Politics and politicians are the bane of good government. They shall have no place, no recognition, no opportunity for display, in my administration.

PUBLIC SERVICE: Demonstrated competency, unquestioned loyalty and zealous efficiency shall be the tests of appointment to or retention in public place. Courtesy and affability shall be insisted upon. The spirit and purpose of civil service shall be fostered.

INDUSTRY: Los Angeles will grow only as industry within her confines or near vicinity is caused to grow. Every industry, every utility, every promising and helpful business venture shall be given practical encouragement and afforded every just and reasonable support. A Mayor should consider himself a standing committee of one on new business for Los Angeles.

LABOR: The man who labors must be encouraged by right conditions and rewarded by proper compensation. His voice in government is needed; his advice shall be sought and his opinions respected.

WATER AND POWER: The outstanding success attending the growth of Los Angeles has been due primarily to her municipally owned and municipally operated water and power. Its growth and expansion are vitally necessary to the city's growth and expansion. We must have more water and more power for new population and new industry. The ownership of the power generated from the fall of the water should go with the ownership of the water.

HARBOR: Commerce is the keynote of prosperity. Los Angeles Harbor must be developed, expanded and directed to the end that the greatest possible amount of commerce may be caused to pass through its portals. The harbor must be protected from incompetent management and from the designs of dishonest men. The harbor must not be permitted to enrich the few, but made to prosper the many.

TRAFFIC: A broad and comprehensive traffic plan in which individual preferment must be kept subordinate to general welfare is an obvious and an outstanding necessity. Utility and artistry must go hand in hand in its development. Its definite and abiding appeal will lie in its ability to permit traffic of all kinds to move and to reduce to the lowest possible minimum opportunities for collision and injury.

LAW ENFORCEMENT: No one shall be so big or so prominent or so influential as to be above the law. No one shall be so poor or so luckless or so downtrodden as to be without the law. It can and will be enforced without fear and without favor.

CIVIC CENTER: A city is not merely a place wherein we may eat, sleep and work. Its artistic development should keep pace with its growth in population and commercial importance. There is inspiration in architecture as well as in music. A Civic Center, broadly planned, boldly consummated, with an eye to future civic welfare and not to personal gain, will be insisted upon.

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS: A community must have adequate facilities for recreation. The parks and playgrounds will be maintained, improved and extended.

MUNICIPAL BUDGET: Economy in expenditure of public funds must be achieved if government is to continue to find favor in the eyes of the people. Private extravagance induces public extravagance, but the reverse likewise is true. By means of the executive budget I confidently expect to effect wise economies and forego against unnecessary expenditures.

A NEW DEAL AND A SQUARE DEAL: The slogan of my administration will ever be: Careful scrutiny of every problem, a square deal for every person. It will be based upon truth, fairness, justice and right. It will take into consideration all creeds, all races, all interests, all opinions.

MODEL CHILD WILL BE AT LEGION LUNCHEON
Demonstrating the ability and possibility in the proper care and education of children, Paul E. Pritoff, Jr., the "model child," will appear before the American Legion Luncheon Club, Tuesday noon at the French Room of the Broadway Hotel, Garden Cafe. Paul is 6 years of age and has won three awards for being a 100 per cent perfect child. The American Legion has secured this talented child as a sitting number in connection with the organization's national endorsement campaign which will provide funds to take care of and educate orphan children of veterans.

JONATHAN CLUB TO ELECT
The Jonathan Club will have its annual meeting for the election of directors next Monday, following a dinner at 6:15 p.m. Polls for the election will open at 12 m. and close at 8 p.m. The directors whose terms expire are Jack Paschall, J. C. Rendler and W. P. Jeffries, the latter being president. In his notice of the meeting President Jeffries reported the club has nearly 1900 resident members, or within 100 of the limit.

MOTOR BOAT TO CROSS COUNTRY

Three Adventurers Planning 5000-Mile Trip

Only One Portage Will be Made on Cruise

Jaunt is Expected to Take About Three Months

A 5000-mile cruise across the continent in a motor boat! This unique plan by three Los Angeles men was disclosed for the first time Thursday night to members of the Adventurers' Club of Los Angeles, at the regular monthly dinner given by the club at the Hotel Ambassador.

John Edwin Hoag, Frank S. Wilton and Val Woodbury make up the trio that will leave Los Angeles by steamer for Astoria, Or., next Friday, taking their motor boat with them to embark on their long journey up the Columbia River. In negotiating this, the first transcontinental motorboat cruise, the boat will be taken from the water only once; a short portage being necessary to get over the continental divide, where no navigable waterways exist.

The motor boat which is to undertake this heretofore unattempted voyage is a Los Angeles product, having been built to meet the special requirements of the trip by Emil Aarup, boat-builder, at 2111 South Main street.

HAS TWO MOTORS
The power plant consists of two four-horsepower Evinrude motors driving twin screws, which will give the boat a speed of about fifteen miles an hour in still water. These motors, which are of the outboard type, were chosen because of the ease with which they may be removed from the boat for portaging, maneuvering past obstructions to navigation.

From Astoria the trio of transcontinental motorboat voyagers will ascend the Columbia River for 480 miles to the mouth of the Snake River. Turning into the Snake River, they will by a journey of 280 miles up that stream, reach Lewiston, Idaho—the farthest point east possible of attainment by water travel in the streams of the Pacific watershed.

At Lewiston the boat will be pulled out of the water, loaded onto a motor truck, and transported to Livingston, Mont., 250 miles over the continental divide. Leaving Livingston, which is located just north of Yellowstone National Park, is on the Yellowstone National Park road, the boat will be launched in the Yellowstone for a jaunt of 400 miles, mostly through white water rapids, into the Missouri River. From the mouth of the Yellowstone the Missouri will be navigated downstream for approximately 150 miles into the Mississippi River, just above St. Louis. The Mississippi and the Illinois River will be traveled to St. Louis, Ill., from which point the Illinois and Michigan Canal provides access to Great Lakes, entering Lake Michigan at Chicago.

From Chicago, the three adventurers will sail along the Wisconsin and North Shore of Michigan shores, through the Straits of Mackinac, and into Lake Huron. In the latter lake they expect to follow the route known as the North Passage; that is, north of the great group of islands along the Canadian shore of Lake Huron. They will follow the Canadian shore.

He's Going to Try Mighty Hard to Win

JUSTICE'S WIFE KILLS SELF

Mrs. Lena McDonald of Venice Takes Poison Due to Despondency Over Health

Despondent, it is supposed, because of continued bad health, Mrs. Lena McDonald, wife of Justice of the Peace Alfred McDonald of Venice township, took her own life yesterday with poison. Justice McDonald is in the Owens Valley on a fishing trip and could not be reached yesterday to be informed of his wife's death.

Mrs. Fern Simmons, of 1819 Pennsylvania street, whose husband accompanied Justice McDonald, was in an adjoining room of the McDonald home at 1927 Westview street at the time. She went there to spend the night at Mrs. McDonald's request, she said. Mrs. McDonald complaining of loneliness, the two women retired rather early Saturday night, and Mrs. McDonald said she was awakened early yesterday by a noise in the bathroom.

Mrs. Simmons went to investigate and found her husband lying on the floor with a package marked with the name of a poison on the floor beside her. She appeared to have taken a large dose of the deadly drug.

Mrs. Simmons called the Sheriff's office and an ambulance took Mrs. McDonald to the Los Angeles Receiving Hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

Mrs. McDonald had been a sufferer from cancer for the past year and was recently advised by surgeons in New York City that an operation was unlikely to give relief. She said she was last night, which included a visit with her mother and sisters in El Paso, and urged her husband to take the fishing trip to Bishop though he was reluctant to go. She spent Saturday in the purchase of poison, running up, it was said, a taxi bill of $21 in going from drug store to drug store. She took about two spoonfuls of the drug, enough to kill a score. She is believed to have procured some of the poison in El Paso.

A special messenger went to Bishop last night to find Justice McDonald and notify him of his wife's death.

Patrolman is Stricken as He Kindles Blaze
Patrolman George A. Neustadt suffered a stroke of paralysis while he was building a camp fire in Griffith Park for a picnic party yesterday.

He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Police Surgeon Chase said the affliction might be only temporary. Neustadt has earned the name of "hard luck" policeman through mishaps during the last eighteen months. He suffered a depressed skull fracture in an automobile accident and was shot through the neck when a pistol in the hands of a brother officer was accidentally fired. He is 29 years of age and lives at 1918 Cypress street.

BOY RUN DOWN
David Perez, 4, of 143 South Riverside street, is the second who may die. He was struck at First and Broadway, while darting across the street to join two chums. The automobile that struck him was a closed car that was struck at Bicknell avenue and Trolley Way, Santa Monica, by a Pacific Electric Venice Short Line car. Egan suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries. His wife and daughter received minor hurts and his son was uninjured. The injured were treated at St. Catherine's Hospital in Santa Monica.

The machine in which the Egan family were riding was carried more than 100 feet, according to witnesses, before the electric train came brought to a halt. The train was operated by Motorman Hale and was in charge of Conductor Borde.

GOES FOR FINALS IN ORATORY

Local Winner Confident as He Takes Train for Great Constitution Battle

"I'm going to try mighty hard" and with that Eugene McElmeel, champion boy orator, yesterday kissed his mother good-bye, waved farewell to schoolmates and swung on the train for Washington, D. C., where he will compete Friday in the national grand finale of the oratorical contest on the Constitution.

About fifty of his boy friends in Loyola College's high school department were at the station along with some of his instructors, other friends and relatives to give him a rousing send-off to the school yells of "Go, go, go" and waving of the gold and purple banners of the institution.

The youngsters completely dominated the leave-taking, while their elders stood about laughing and yielding to the school yells. They made a noisy time of it around the Santa Fe station to the school yells of "Go, go, go" and waving of the gold and purple banners of the institution.

Owen P. McElmeel, the boy's father, and Prof. A. F. Banks, contest director in this territory, accompanied the boy.

"Gene has a good chance to win and we must come back with him as the national champion," "Mac," as the boys call him, was heard to say in the contest in Southern California.

PICK FOR TRADITION
When I was a boy a Shakespeare play was a solemn and sacred thing.

All the stage "business" had come down through tradition. If every word and gesture wasn't done just as Edwin Booth's great grandfather did it, the critics faint in their orchestra chairs.

Now, nobody cares a whoop how they play Shakespeare as long as it is interesting—which it usually isn't.

This has left brilliant young actors like Jane Cowl and John Barrymore free to act the Shakespeare plays in a simple and natural way, as they were intended to be acted.

MEMORIAL TREES
A most interesting custom has been started in Hollywood with the planting of memorial trees on the grounds of three of the principal schools.

Only it ought to be carried further. Whenever a new boulevard is opened it should be lined with trees; and each tree should have some special significance.

Every distinguished man or woman who visits Los Angeles should be invited to plant one and the memory of every great character in the history of this country should be perpetuated by a memorial tree.

And most important of all, these memorials should not be limited to people whose fame depends upon the fact that they have destroyed the lives of other people in various wars.

LAY LIBRARY CORNER-STONE

Institution's Staff Attends Ceremonies at Which Vice-President Pettigell of Board Officials

More than a hundred members of the staff of the Los Angeles Public Library attended a family party yesterday afternoon at which the corner-stone of the city's new library structure at Fifth street and Grand avenue was dedicated. The ceremonies, informal and witnessed by the first dedication in a small corner box containing historical relics of the library's progress and growth throughout the years and also taken from the corner-stone of the old Normal School, was deposited in a specially carved compartment inside the stone.

O. E. Monnette, president of the board, was unable to attend the ceremonies yesterday due to illness. Father Francis Conarty, a member of the board, was also absent.

In laying the corner-stone, Mr. Pettigell pointed out that the ceremony was significant in that it was the corner-stone of the first central library building that the city of Los Angeles has ever owned. He also paid a special tribute to the children of the city.

THE LANCER

THE wolfish police dogs, the snub-nose Pekingese, and other stars of the dog aristocracy find themselves suddenly on the shelf.

With a St. Bernard the size of a baby elephant, or a Great Dane as tall as the mule, you can sort of hang on the edge of fashion.

But to be really doggy, you must have a Doberman Pinscher. That is the final word.

NURSES FOR SHEEP
The Doberman is the real German police dog. After listening with awe all these years to the thief-catching prowess of the "German police dogs," we are informed in dark confidence that they are not really police dogs; the fiercest thing they ever did was to act as dry nurses to a flock of sheep.

Although the Dobermann, mayhap, have all the final and most exalted virtues of dogdom, I have a terrible suspicion that the real reason for their sudden popularity is the difficulty of getting them.

The German government has put forth a stern ukase forbidding their export. Naturally this is enough for the spoiled children of Hollywood. Any dog that they can't possibly get is the one they've got to have.

THAT JULIET GIRL
Jane Cowl, who is coming to Los Angeles soon to play Juliet, is an interesting topic for discussion.

This celebration has been the coldest to Shakespeare of any generation who have lived during the long centuries since the plays were written. Yet this generation has produced two of the finest Shakespearean actors of all theatrical history.

Jane Cowl as Juliet and John Barrymore as Hamlet. But, after all, this is not as strange as it sounds. I think these great productions of Shakespeare have been made possible because the public is sick of Shakespeare.

POLICE FIND WOMAN DEAD IN GLENDALE
Mystery Surrounds Death of Resident Said to be Friend of Gould Family

Asserted to have been a close friend of the millionaire Gould family of New York, Miss Emma C. Floyd, 55 years of age, was found dead in her home at 1421 Hillside Drive, Glendale, a victim of either heart disease or carbon monoxide poisoning, the police believe.

The body was found when C. B. Newport, a Los Angeles real estate man living at 510 South Serrano street, who has interests in the neighborhood and who was used to seeing Miss Floyd about her place, noted her disappearance and called the attention of the Glendale police. He and Sgt. Blake forced a door and found Miss Floyd lying face downward in the kitchen. It is believed she had been dead for several days, as she was last seen Tuesday.

Newport told the police that finances for her substantial residence was provided by the Gould family, and that he handled the transaction. The woman lived in the house alone.

A gas burner in the kitchen and an electric light were burning when the body was found. The remains were taken to the L. G. Sovern mortuary in Glendale.

Chief interest in the Swastika arises from its mysterious distribution everywhere throughout the world.

ATTORNEY SAYS ELECT BLEDSOE

W. H. Anderson Lauds
Former Federal Jurist

Flays Weak Attitude Shown
by Incumbent Mayor

Asserts Candidate Will be
Virile in Office

Attorney W. H. Anderson, for forty years prominent in Los Angeles, yesterday issued to the voters a strong indictment of the present administration and urged the election of B. A. Bledsoe as Mayor. In this statement which was entitled "A Last Word," Attorney Anderson said:

"I was startlingly impressed by a statement of one of our prominent lawyers, thoroughly versed in local politics, that the trouble with Bledsoe is that he is too high-class a man for the office."

"This gentleman coupled this assertion with the explanation that certain undesirable elements which infect every community, and have been and are particularly active in Los Angeles—the great concourse of law violators, bootleggers, gamblers and crooks of every description—prefer a quiescent, inactive, even though honest Mayor, like our inert incumbent, Mayor Cryer, to a Mayor who will be equally honest, but will possess, as Judge Bledsoe possesses in the highest degree, the dynamic purpose, intent and energy to see that our criminal laws are enforced to the utmost, and that our city by law enforcement will be made safe for our honest and law-abiding citizens."

PERSONAL INTEGRITY

"I do not believe and have never believed that Mayor Cryer has ever knowingly encouraged vice conditions in this city. I do believe and most reluctantly have been brought to believe that certain malign influences in whom he blindly and foolishly trusts, who are his backers and advisers in his office and in this campaign, have done and are doing so. But whether I am right or wrong in this conclusion, I know beyond a question of peradventure that the past quiescent acquiescence of the present administration in wide-spread criminal conditions and activities is considered by the growing criminal element who prey upon our city and tarnish its fair name as a future promise of at least halfhearted effort if they can succeed, as they are bending every effort to succeed, in re-electing Mayor Cryer."

"Much has been said and done to cloud the issues of this campaign. Much, unfortunately, has been done in an attempt to arouse class conflict in it—to preach and promulgate and stir up the deplorable and un-American sentiment of the masses against the classes."

CITIES ONLY ISSUE

"The real and only issue in this campaign is between two men of unquestioned integrity and of the best intentions, one of whom, Mayor Cryer, has been tried and found wanting, to quote the 'The Record,' one of his most ardent supporters, who 'is one of the most disappointing men in political life in Los Angeles in recent years'—a political office-seeker, wax-figure in a political Punch-and-Judy show; and the other of whom, former Judge Benjamin Bledsoe, a native son of the State of California, is a notably upstanding, independent, upright, aggressive and dynamic personality, who, if elected, will serve the city without

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

In accordance with its custom of many years, The Times will employ every possible means for giving the public quick and reliable service on the primary election returns Tuesday evening.

Returns will be shown on a stereopticon screen at the Times Building at First and Broadway, will be broadcast by KHJ, The Times giant radio station; will be published in a series of extra editions throughout the evening and will be given by telephone to all who call.

Elaborate arrangements have been perfected by which these returns will be gathered and flashed to The Times at the first possible moment after the polls close at 7 p.m.

For or favor, and will be Mayor, the Mayor of the city of Los Angeles as a whole, without dominance of or dictation from any political clique or combination or personal influence whatever—the honest, upright, fearless, forthright, active, aggressive and law-enforcing Mayor of Los Angeles, and for Los Angeles, and Los Angeles only.

"Which of the two men would you hire for a private business enterprise?"

"Which will you employ as your Mayor?"

"As you answer these questions, so should you mark your ballot."

VITAL ISSUE UP TO CITY IN PRIMARY

H. Clay Needham Asserts
Voters Have Opportunity to Show Ideals

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As the vote of the primary election approaches, every patriotic citizen, not only of Los Angeles, but of the entire country which has been marking the phenomenal growth and progress of the city, must feel a deep interest in its result.

The opportunity is now placed before the citizens to show they desire to place the business administration of the city in the hands of a man not only possessed of far above the average of both native and acquired intelligence, but of so fearless and upright character as to furnish a guarantee that no financial, political or other sinister interests, would for one moment control the destiny of the city.

The manner in which the electorate responds will largely decide if the public really desires men of high American ideals to represent them, or those of the old regime of the victor belongs the spoils.

The vote registered for Judge Benjamin Bledsoe will, to many a youth of the city, serve as an index as to whether it really pays to build up a strong, independent, patriotic character or to cringingly truckle to the whims of the interests largely controlling the political policies of the day; whether morality and patriotism or political expediency is what the public desires in the man.

It would seem that the election of Judge Bledsoe at the primary would automatically register a new and higher level for Los Angeles throughout the entire country and indicate that in so far as this city is concerned the spirit of '76 still lives.

LARGE LEAD IS FORECAST FOR MUSHET

Candidate for Controller
Will Wind Up Campaign
Tonight

With the indorsement of many civic and other organizations, Councilman Mushet tomorrow will submit to the voters his candidacy for nomination to the office of City Controller. Mr. Mushet's campaign will close tonight with a series of speeches in various parts of the city. In these talks he will point to his record of achievements as a certified public accountant, city auditor and for the last four years chairman of the finance committee of the City Council.

Among the prominent men who have publicly indorsed Mr. Mushet's candidacy are Mayor H. Plint, Joseph H. Johnson, Bishop of Los Angeles, Episcopal Diocese, Dean William McCormack, Abe Frank, Isidore B. Dockweiler, H. A. Bell, W. P. Caldwell, Dwight Hart, C. C. Colyear, H. H. Merrick, Louis G. Guernsey, W. J. Paley, Hugh P. Stewart, John L. Richardson, Clara Woolwine and many others. Indorsement also has been given by a large committee of club women.

Jack Scanlon, publicity manager for the campaign, said last night that reports yesterday from precinct captains and other district workers throughout the city indicated that Mr. Mushet will lead by a large vote tomorrow the other candidates on the ticket for controller.

Praise for Mr. Mushet was given yesterday in the following indorsement of his candidacy:

"By Mr. Mushet's skillful and economical management of the funds of the city he has made it possible to relieve merchants of the former obnoxious monthly occasional tax. He has by careful and prudent economies made it possible to provide funds to pay the salaries of the police department, and a similar proportional increase of the fire department thus assuring the public greatly increased security and protection of person and property."

"Mr. Mushet has served as chairman of the finance committee with the highest degree of efficiency in the City Council. He saved the taxpayers $250,000 by preventing a secret sale of power bonds. It is our duty in gratitude to a faithful and deserving official to show our appreciation by voting at the primaries for W. C. Mushet for City Controller."

WILL TAKE 90 DAYS

From the eastern end of the Trent waterways, which is just across Lake Ontario from Oswego, N. Y., the boat will be taken through the eastern end of Lake Ontario into the St. Lawrence River. The latter provides the route to Sorel, Quebec, about fifty miles below Montreal. At that point the boat will be driven up the Richelieu River, through the Richelieu Canal, and into Lake Champlain. The Champlain Canal will take them into the Hudson River for the final lap of the long journey to New York City, leaving Astoria the 15th inst. Hoag, Wilton and Woodbury, expect to dock their craft in New York City August 15, or just ninety days after leaving the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Hoag, who is the promoter of the cruise, is a writer whose work is known to readers of various national magazines and metropolitan daily newspapers. He is making the trip primarily for the sake of experience and background for further literary efforts. Wilton is a motion-picture camera operator with a wide acquaintance in local motion-picture circles. He was the camera man on the recent Oakland Museum's African expedition. A motion-picture outfit and a battery of still cameras will be under his supervision. Woodbury was formerly a seafaring man. Huge 'Bond Fire' Tonight at New Westwood Site

The greatest bonfire in the history of California will be staged tonight by the students of the University of California, Southern Branch, on the new site at Beverly, in honor of the bond issue of $700,000, to be voted upon tomorrow. It is being arranged as part of a gigantic celebration which the students are planning as a great climax to the campaign they have been waging in favor of the bond issue.

During the last two weeks the students have been piling ton upon ton of combustible material on the site so as to be in readiness for the big conflagration. In addition to the students of the university, who will turn out en masse at the celebration, will be the alumni from the various colleges residing in Southern California, including Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, University of Chicago, University of Pennsylvania, and various well-known institutions of learning.

Plans are being made by the university student body to handle a crowd of at least 20,000 persons. Automobiles will run direct to the "bond fire," with the Pacific Electric Company putting on special trains and busses direct to Beverly.

WARNING!

Unscrupulous politicians have again resorted to their customary election-year trick of tugging campaign dodgers in copies of The Times after they have left the Times Building on their way to subscribers.

The public is advised that no such circumspect emanate from The Times and that any person caught placing them in copies of the paper will be prosecuted for malicious mischief.

TRIO TO TOUR CONTINENT IN BOAT

With but a few hundred miles to be traveled by land, a trio of Los Angeles men will start soon on a transcontinental "cruise" from the Pacific to the Atlantic. The few miles which they find cannot be traversed by the streams of the continent will be spanned by portage. The craft in which the trip will be made is shown in the upper view. It may be operated by one or two motors at a speed of fifteen miles an hour. Below, the method by which the craft will be transported overland is illustrated.

BERNICE DAY, SISTER FACE NEW CHARGE

Traffic Tag is Given Pair;
Acid Case Will Go to the Jury Today

While a jury is deliberating on the fate of Mrs. Bernice L. Day and her sister, Carolyn Lundstrom, on an acid-throwing charge in Judge Hardy's court today, the two young defendants will have more than one worry on their minds. They have a court summons on a traffic charge to answer following the outcome of the "acid bath" case.

The rakish yellow touring car which has taken a prominent part in the "acid bath" episode, passed another auto on Sunset Boulevard near Doheny Drive last night in a manner which failed to suit the exacting eye of L. B. Kennedy, county motorcycle officer. He issued a tag for a traffic violation.

The "acid bath" case will go to the jury before noon today and it is not at all probable that a verdict will be reached before nightfall.

Dept. Dist. Atty. H. S. G. McCarty will make the closing argument in the case at 10 o'clock this morning and has announced that he will take about half an hour. Immediately thereafter Judge Hardy will issue his instructions to the jury.

McCarty is expected to make a strong plea in his closing address. Mrs. Day, Sr., has testified that she feared her daughter-in-law. Although defense attorneys have introduced evidence and submitted arguments tending to discount the mother-in-law's statements and insinuations, Dep. Dist. Atty. McCarty has intimated that he will present an argument designed to prove that Mrs. Day, Sr., had ample reason to fear her son's wife.

He also is expected to argue what the prosecution considers a glaring discrepancy in the notes of attempted suicide which Mrs. Day, Jr., is asserted to have chosen on several occasions.

The trial has been in progress since last Tuesday. The wife, through her counsel, Attorney Charles E. Stewart, Sr. and Jr., contends the "acid bath" was an accident, asserting the contents of the vital evidence submitted in support of committing suicide was spilled on her husband when he suddenly started an automobile in which both were sitting.

Both Mrs. Day, Jr., and Carolyn Lundstrom have told stories in which the younger sister takes no part in the acid episode whatever, except to drive Mrs. Day, Jr., to the Day home in Beverly Hills on the night of the "acid bath." In this connection, defense contends that Miss Lundstrom, who absolutely nothing of her sister's possession of nitric acid or of its intended use.

HEADACHES (Part I.)

Headache is not a disease. It is a symptom, a sign that something is wrong somewhere in the body. So if you are subject to headaches, you should have a little detective work done—more than a little, perhaps—to locate this offending something.

Last night I attended a symposium on headaches at the New York Academy of Medicine. The first paper was entitled "Headaches of Nasal Origin," the second "Ocular Headaches," the third "Headaches from the Viewpoint of the Neurologist," and the fourth, "Headaches from the Viewpoint of the Internist." You can see from the titles of these papers that the patient complains that a wedge is prying the nose apart. If there are polyps (enlarged tumors) in the nasal cavity, the headaches are apt to be constant.

Ocular headaches. Eye strain from any sort may give a frontal headache—or a headache at the back of the head. Thirty per cent to 50 per cent of the frontal headaches are due to eye strain. A very slight eye strain which gives no symptoms at all in the eyes may be the cause of headache; and dizziness, insomnia and melancholia may be present.

Treatment of these nasal and eye headaches, is, of course, to have the abnormal condition corrected. A chronic nasal catarrh would suggest a visit to the nose and throat specialist. No trouble with the nose or throat would suggest a visit to the oculist or to the internist.

Tomorrow I'll tell you of the headaches caused by other abnormal conditions.

[Tomorrow: Headaches, Part II.]

whose marriage was one of the events in Hollywood last month, have returned from their wedding trip and are at home to their friends at 1715 Van Ness avenue. Mrs. Minor was formerly Miss Theresa Mae Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Blair of Holly Drive, and the ceremony was read by Rev. Neal Dodd in the Little Church Around the Corner.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Susan Boyce, while Horace Burdard served. Mr. Minor as a host man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Encino Country Club for immediate relatives and the bridal party, and Mrs. and Mr. Minor left for their wedding trip in San Francisco.

Home Wedding
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo L. Lang in Inglewood last month, the scene of a prettily appointed wedding recently, when Miss Cora Hutter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hutter of Iowa, plighted her troth to Thomas Miln Hyatt of San Pedro, Rev. Thomas Grace officiating. Large numbers of guests were present, and the wedding dinner, Mr. Hyatt, left for their wedding trip. They will be at home after August 1 in San Pedro. Among the out-of-town guests were former Senator Robert Hunter of Sioux City, father of the bride, Mrs. Hyatt, who graduated from Oberlin College, Ohio, while Mr. Hyatt, who is the son of Mrs. William H. Hyatt, a retired naval officer.

University Picnic
One of the delightful affairs in college circles was the annual picnic with which the faculty wives of the University of Southern California entertained at the mountain cabin of Dr. and Mrs. John G. Hill in Sierra Madre Canyon. About eighty of the faculty members and their wives enjoyed the buffet supper and the afternoon and evening made altogether delightful outing. The assisting hostesses and their husbands were house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hill over the week-end.

Unique Affair
Quite a unique entertainment was given by Mrs. L. F. Schaefer, 254 Virginia avenue, to a group of friends in the form of a dinner and bridge party, one of the features being an orchard egg contest. The egg was secured at a Cawston Orchard Farm and weighed four pounds. A very tasty omelet was served from one egg to eighteen guests. All of the guests photographed a portion of the shell, which will be kept as a souvenir of the occasion.

Fifth Wife of Anthony Cuhna Seeks Divorce

Anthony Cuhna had every legitimate reason to express himself by way of a prodigious yawn, when a man presented a certain paper to him yesterday, according to Mrs. Florence Cuhna.

For the man would be a process server, and the paper was a summons to come to court to defend himself against his fifth divorce suit. It appeared from the complaint which Mrs. Cuhna filed. Four predecessors who had preceded over Cuhna's hearth for varying tenures had freed themselves from him by divorce. Mrs. Cuhna declared, she did not recall what his difficulties with his asserted previous spouses had been. But as for herself, she said, she did not care for his treatment. He choked her until she was black in the face, Mrs. Cuhna declared, and falsely accused her of buying a pair of stockings, which, although she felt she had every right to purchase, she had not as a matter of fact, bought.

GRADE CHANGE ON VERMONT IS ADVISED

WORKS BOARD ASKS COUNCIL TO START PROCEEDINGS FOR HILL CUTS

Acting on a report from City Engineer Van Norman, the Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council to institute proceedings for changing the grade on Vermont avenue from San Marino street to Washington street.

At the present time proceedings are under way to widen Vermont street from Washington street to the western part of the city. It is planned to build a sixty-foot roadway, with a nine-inch pavement, and ten-foot sidewalks. On this section of the avenue there are some rolling hills. The City Engineer plans to cut some of these down and fill the low ones, thus leveling the entire stretch.

Fifth Wife of Anthony Cuhna Seeks Divorce

Anthony Cuhna had every legitimate reason to express himself by way of a prodigious yawn, when a man presented a certain paper to him yesterday, according to Mrs. Florence Cuhna.

For the man would be a process server, and the paper was a summons to come to court to defend himself against his fifth divorce suit. It appeared from the complaint which Mrs. Cuhna filed. Four predecessors who had preceded over Cuhna's hearth for varying tenures had freed themselves from him by divorce. Mrs. Cuhna declared, she did not recall what his difficulties with his asserted previous spouses had been. But as for herself, she said, she did not care for his treatment. He choked her until she was black in the face, Mrs. Cuhna declared, and falsely accused her of buying a pair of stockings, which, although she felt she had every right to purchase, she had not as a matter of fact, bought.

WORKS BOARD ASKS COUNCIL TO START PROCEEDINGS FOR HILL CUTS

Acting on a report from City Engineer Van Norman, the Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council to institute proceedings for changing the grade on Vermont avenue from San Marino street to Washington street.

At the present time proceedings are under way to widen Vermont street from Washington street to the western part of the city. It is planned to build a sixty-foot roadway, with a nine-inch pavement, and ten-foot sidewalks. On this section of the avenue there are some rolling hills. The City Engineer plans to cut some of these down and fill the low ones, thus leveling the entire stretch.

HEADACHES (Part I.)

Headache is not a disease. It is a symptom, a sign that something is wrong somewhere in the body. So if you are subject to headaches, you should have a little detective work done—more than a little, perhaps—to locate this offending something.

Last night I attended a symposium on headaches at the New York Academy of Medicine. The first paper was entitled "Headaches of Nasal Origin," the second "Ocular Headaches," the third "Headaches from the Viewpoint of the Neurologist," and the fourth, "Headaches from the Viewpoint of the Internist." You can see from the titles of these papers that the patient complains that a wedge is prying the nose apart. If there are polyps (enlarged tumors) in the nasal cavity, the headaches are apt to be constant.

Ocular headaches. Eye strain from any sort may give a frontal headache—or a headache at the back of the head. Thirty per cent to 50 per cent of the frontal headaches are due to eye strain. A very slight eye strain which gives no symptoms at all in the eyes may be the cause of headache; and dizziness, insomnia and melancholia may be present.

Treatment of these nasal and eye headaches, is, of course, to have the abnormal condition corrected. A chronic nasal catarrh would suggest a visit to the nose and throat specialist. No trouble with the nose or throat would suggest a visit to the oculist or to the internist.

Tomorrow I'll tell you of the headaches caused by other abnormal conditions.

District Forest Supervisor Redington this morning will issue an appeal to citizens of Southern California to exercise the greatest precautions possible against forest and brush fires during the coming months.

Superintendent Redington attended the reforestation meeting last week at Mt. Lowe and with Senator Shortridge was one of the principal speakers.

The standing timber of Southern California is the most valuable in the nation, Superintendent Redington said. "From a watershed standpoint its value is far in excess of any other purpose to which it might be put."

Some timber facts about California were supplied by the forest official. They follow:

California, with one-fourth of her original supply of timber gone, still has 15 per cent of all the remaining saw timber in the United States, and is exceeded only by Oregon.

There are 18,186,000 acres of land in the State capable of growing commercial timber.

The area of virgin timbered lands is 15,932,000 acres, of which 10,631,000 acres are Federal owned; 4,406,000 acres are private; owned, and 95,000 acres are held by the State.

Timber upon areas within National Forest boundaries will be cut under approved methods of forestry, and these same areas can again be cut out in from fifty to seventy-five years, unless the remaining stand of young timber reproduction and seed trees are being destroyed by fire.

Fire invariably gets into cut-over areas, and what the lumberman has not destroyed the forest does.

There are approximately 4,406,000 acres of timber land in the State that have been forested either by successive cutting or by burned causing me to scratch and caused eruptions and I could not

Rough Riders Campaign for Old Costume Revival

Champion Riders in Costume

A GROUP of champion "charro" rough riders and reppers from Mexico City are now at Nogales and may make a tour of California, where revival of the old-time Mexican costume is

His Answer to Will Attack Denies Weinstains Are Parents of His Slain Wife

Another link in the long chain of litigation surrounding the estate of Theresa W. Mors, killed in her apartment last August, has been welded with the filing by her surviving husband, Albert A. Mors, of an answer to the suit brought by Clara and Joseph Weinstein of New York to have Mrs. Mors' property.

In their suit, the Weinstains, who claimed to be the parents of Mrs. Mors, attacked the will executed by Mrs. Mors in 1921 and in which she named Mors as sole legatee and executor of her estate. Mrs. Mors was said to have left jewelry, stock in her antique shop and insurance valued at more than $100,000.

The Weinstains alleged the will was drawn at a time when Mors and his wife were on good terms with each other. Since that time, the complaint recited, Mors and his wife had domestic difficulties which resulted in Mors securing an interlocutory decree of divorce August 7, 1924.

When the decree was granted, according to the complaint, Mors and his wife entered into a property settlement, under the terms of which each was to relinquish all claims to the separate property of the other. But Mrs. Mors was said to have been secured by Mors of the property in his possession and he used on a claim and delivery action to get possession of it.

In his answer, Mors asserted that the Weinstains alleged the will was drawn at a time when Mors and his wife were on good terms with each other. Since that time, the complaint recited, Mors and his wife had domestic difficulties which resulted in Mors securing an interlocutory decree of divorce August 7, 1924.

ROMANCE OUSTED IN SUIT

Asserted Youthful Love Affair Held Irrelevant in $10,000 Breach-of-Promise Case

The asserted 25-year-old romance of Mrs. Lucile Sudduth and Albert L. Gray of Long Beach has been stricken out of the suit brought by Mrs. Sudduth against Gray for $10,000 damages for asserted breach of promise to marry, and when the case goes to trial, the Superior Court will be concerned only with the question of whether Gray failed to keep an asserted contract to marry Mrs. Sudduth.

In her original complaint, Mrs. Sudduth recited that she and Gray went to the same country school in Tennessee twenty-five years ago, that they became infatuated with each other as a result of their comradeship on the old farm.

Their asserted youthful romance, according to the complaint, had its denouement when Mrs. Sudduth gave birth to a son in 1900. Thereafter, she said, the road parted for her and Gray; she went to Oklahoma and married and made his home in Long Beach and married.

Later, Mrs. Sudduth said, her husband died and Gray and she were divorced. In 1924 the complaint continued, Gray wrote Mrs. Sudduth, he begged her to marry him and asked her to come to Long Beach.

After arriving at the beach city, Mrs. Sudduth declared, Gray asked her to marry him, and the ceremony was set for January 15, 1925. On the day before the nuptials were to be celebrated, Mrs. Sudduth asserted, Gray informed her that he did not go through with the marriage.

The story of the asserted romance was held to be immaterial to Mrs. Sudduth's case, Gray has filed an amended action charging only that Gray broke a promise to marry her. Mrs. Sudduth is represented by Attorney D. D. Wolverson, while Gray made his appearance through Attorneys Messers and Messers.

True Sympathy
Lawyer: What? Ten thousand a year to your wife if she marries again and only $5000 if she does not? Most unusual that!

Client: Yes, but you see I am considering my successor. He does serves extra.—[Boston Transcript.]

MEN STRANDED ON DESERT

Labor Department Investigates Wage Claims of Unpaid Workers on Road Near Barstow

Twenty-five men and their families, said to be stranded on the desert through the asserted failure of a road-building contractor to pay wages, have come to the attention of the State Department of Labor. It was learned Saturday that Chief Investigator Bloch returned from an investigation of the situation.

According to the investigator, the men are literally living from hand to mouth at Barstow and an emergency system of credit has had to be established with merchants and rooming-house owners. The men were employed, the investigator said, by H. M. Henning, a Los Angeles contractor, and were grading a portion of the State highway in the vicinity of Barstow.

The men filed claims through the investigator totaling $3977.15. Many individual claims are for amounts approximating $300, he said.

On his return to Los Angeles, Chief Investigator Bloch succeeded in making arrangements with the State Highway Commission to stop further payments due the contractor and to have the men applied toward satisfying the claims. In the event sufficient money cannot be obtained, the investigator said, he will advise the State Highway Commission to take action against Henning's bond.

Bloch said he could not locate the contractor either at Barstow or in Los Angeles.

Listeners-in Invited to Send Guesses as to Identity

BY CLARE MELLONINO
One of the important factors contributing to the success of KHJ is its never failing sense of fitness. And fortunately for the Times station, its patrons are blessed with the same quality, making it possible to maintain the present high standards of radio broadcast. One of the first names which occurs to us in this connection is the Martin Music Company, whose semimonthly concerts at KHJ have, with few exceptions, been given on the Sabbath. And with deep appreciation of the significance of the Lord's Day, their offerings to Radioland have quietly and perfectly fused with reverent atmosphere.

Their program last night proved no departure from this rule and, arranged by J. Howard Johnson, it presented the Mysterious Artist, who is acclaimed as the leading violinist of the world; Ruth Pitts, soprano; John Martin at the Gulbransen registering piano, and the Orfeon Trio composed of Catherine Jackson, harp; William Hurlinger, flute, and Joseph Heindl, cello.

DELIGHTFUL SOPRANO
Ruth Pitts's delightful soprano voice soared to the heights which she invariably reaches not only through her complete knowledge of the intricacies of broadcast but due to her intelligent selection of numbers and her splendid interpretations. John Martin, who assisted her at the piano, was the regular suave yet emotional master of this instrument, both in the role of soloist and accompanist.

The Orfeon Trio combining as does youth, talents and kindred spirits who respond instantly to the musical demands of each other, could not be denied the plaudits that always come to the artists whose renditions are born from the union of heart and mind.

Of course the sensation of the evening was the mysterious violinist, announced as one of the ten leading violinists of the world. The first three numbers played by this artist were familiar to our radio family, but probably every listener-in heard heretofore hidden beauties, that the bow and wizard fingers of this international musician drew from an instrument so rich in history that it is the envy of all other violinists.

CLEW TO IDENTITY
What marvels of technique, what sumptuousness of tone, what flawless intonation in double stopping we listened to last night. It is not in my power to add to the plaudits that always come to this artist. It is interesting in this modern era when nearly everyone has a phonograph, to discover how many people can identify the tone of this violinist through having heard it on records. Kindly send your guesses to the Martin Music Company, care of KHJ, The Times. The only clue we will give you is that the violinist has played with the leading symphony orchestras of this country and Europe, including the Boston Symphony, the Philadelphia, the St. Louis, and the Minneapolis symphonies, the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, and many others.

Tuesday evening it might be wise to remain at home with your receiving sets as company, as the Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc., will present a charming program, including the KHJ Concert Trio, Georgi Shkultsky, bass; Henry Canlor, tenor, in solos and duets, and Volmar Atti, harpist.

Listeners-in Invited to Send Guesses as to Identity

BY CLARE MELLONINO
One of the important factors contributing to the success of KHJ is its never failing sense of fitness. And fortunately for the Times station, its patrons are blessed with the same quality, making it possible to maintain the present high standards of radio broadcast. One of the first names which occurs to us in this connection is the Martin Music Company, whose semimonthly concerts at KHJ have, with few exceptions, been given on the Sabbath. And with deep appreciation of the significance of the Lord's Day, their offerings to Radioland have quietly and perfectly fused with reverent atmosphere.

DELIGHTFUL SOPRANO
Ruth Pitts's delightful soprano voice soared to the heights which she invariably reaches not only through her complete knowledge of the intricacies of broadcast but due to her intelligent selection of numbers and her splendid interpretations. John Martin, who assisted her at the piano, was the regular suave yet emotional master of this instrument, both in the role of soloist and accompanist.

CLEW TO IDENTITY
What marvels of technique, what sumptuousness of tone, what flawless intonation in double stopping we listened to last night. It is not in my power to add to the plaudits that always come to this artist. It is interesting in this modern era when nearly everyone has a phonograph, to discover how many people can identify the tone of this violinist through having heard it on records. Kindly send your guesses to the Martin Music Company, care of KHJ, The Times. The only clue we will give you is that the violinist has played with the leading symphony orchestras of this country and Europe, including the Boston Symphony, the Philadelphia, the St. Louis, and the Minneapolis symphonies, the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, and many others.

Filipino Pleads Unwritten Law in Murder Case
Pleading the unwritten law as a defense for his act, Timothy Yalko, a Filipino, today will go on trial before Judge Hardy, charged with the murder of Harry L. Kidder, dance-hall musician. Lola Yalko, young wife of the accused man, may be called to testify regarding the attention said to have been showered upon her by the dead man.

According to the story told police by Yalko after his arrest, he had been married but a few months when his wife, a former dancer, began intimacies with other men. Kidder especially, he said, had been in her company more than had her husband.

Smoldering jealousy grew into insane rage, he said, and after following the couple to a rooming-house he broke in and confronted them. Kidder, he stated, attempted to beat him with a chair while he, Yalko, stood in the doorway with a knife and stabbed Kidder to death.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Costello will prosecute the case.

Capt. Jewell and Wife Leave on Visit East
Capt. A. C. Jewell, veteran of the Sheriff's office, head of the civil department of that office, and a lawyer as well, today is speeding toward New Orleans on his first vacation in fourteen years and on a long-delayed honeymoon. Mrs. Jewell and he are both going "back East" to visit their folks, the first time in many years.

For fourteen years Capt. Jewell has toiled at his desk in the civil department of the Sheriff's office, scoring vacations, and even taking time to study law. He was prominently mentioned recently for an appointment as a Justice of the Peace.

When the couple boarded a Southern Pacific train at Central Station, many friends were there with flowers and other gifts, just as they were bride and groom; even rice was used plentifully.

Capt. and Mrs. Jewell will visit Jewell's parents, near Houston, and Mrs. Jewell's parents at Buffalo. They will take a steamer at New Orleans for New York, and expect to be away a month.

WAS GOOD OLD LID, BUT—
Straw Tops Are Marshaling Forces to Give The Grand Old Felts a Terrible Lickin' May 13

The annual spring battle between the Straws and the Felts will be staged this year on the 13th inst., it was announced yesterday. This will be known as straw hat day not only in Southern California but throughout the entire State.

An expedition of scouts returning from the downtown store fronts reports where old Gen. Summer already has marshaled great forces to overwhelm the Felts. The straw army is being put into the field this year with entirely new equipment, shapes and designs. Reports of the scouts on some of the individual straws, together with observations on the general situation are as follows:

The bulk of the straw army will wear helmets of sailor models with low crown, wide brim, fancy bands of medium width in high colors. The sailor is the popular model. No colored straws will go—they are going to be all white, with the exception of the leghorns, of course.

You will be able to spot an old straw this year by its coarse weave. The new tops are of the

Alienation Suit Answer Charges Neglect of Wife
Denial of the charge they conspired to alienate the affections of their daughter from her husband has been made in an answer Mr. and Mrs. William D. Shorrock have filed to the suit for $150,000 damages brought against them by their son-in-law, J. C. Trenary.

In his complaint, Trenary asserted his father-in-law so worked upon his wife's feelings that she deserted him April 28, 1924, and went to live with her parents.

Shorrock entered a specific denial to the charge made by his son-in-law. He asserted that Trenary left her husband because of his asserted failure to provide for her. The answer recited that their daughter had complained that Trenary was cruel to her and endeavored to persuade her to grant favors to other men. Trenary, according to the answer, filed a suit for divorce against his wife in May, 1924.

With the filing of the answer, the case is now in position to be set for trial.

Mother's Day Radio Bill is Ad Club Plan
A special Mother's Day program, to be broadcast over one of the local radio stations, has been arranged for the regular meeting of the Advertising Club to be held at the Biltmore tomorrow.

The principal addresses will be delivered by Lloyd Spencer, president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association, on the subject "Organized Advertising on the Pacific Coast." Mr. Spencer's appearance here is considered timely, due to the approaching convention in Seattle of his organization. The Los Angeles club has promised one of the largest delegations that ever attended an event of this kind from the south.

Otto Ploetz, tenor, will sing "Memories of Mothers," and Dale Parke, club orator, will render "Our Mothers."

The program will be in charge of President A. D. Smith, and A. Carman Smith, vice-president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs, will handle the gavel for the day.

Rebel Tribesmen Take Seven Blackhouses Near Spanish Frontier in Morocco
Three Columns of Troops Hurried from Fez to Stop Insurgents' Advance

BY HENRY WALKER
PARIS, May 4.—Seven French blackhouses near the Spanish frontier in Morocco have been captured by rebel Rifman tribesmen. The garrisons are reported to have been slaughtered. It is estimated that 400 Rifmans were inside the French protectorate when the last twenty-four blackhouses near the Spanish frontier in Morocco were captured. The Rifmans in the French zone are awaiting an uprising of a holy war to aid the Rifmans in the establishment of an Arab-Moorish state.

Marshall Lyautey, military governor of Morocco, this afternoon arrived at Fez to take the field personally against the Rifman tribesmen commanded by Abd-el-Krim's son.

Rebels from Spanish Morocco have made important advances within the last twenty-four hours, capturing the Guerguira River and penetrating to within thirty miles of Fez. The rebels have been aided by tribes faithful to the French and seized hostages whom they forced to aid in carrying war materials.

MANY CASUALTIES
In bloody clashes with French troops, the Rifis killed and wounded many and there were several casualties among French troops and officers. A French officer admitted this afternoon receiving disquieting information from Morocco, turning the attention of the French government to the Rifman objective in the center of Morocco.

Already columns of Rifmans are marching to cut the Rabat-Fez railway and the high road connecting the two cities. The French authorities fear that the Rifmans may be killed or captured and held as a number of Americans now in Morocco making automobile and other trips across the northern Sahara are among the northern
